KEY MESSAGES

16 Days of Activism, Myanmar 2023
Use any of these messages as they are or adapt them to suit your audiences, activities and priorities.

Facts & figures

1. Violence against women and girls is one of the most prevalent and pervasive human rights violations in the world. But less than 0.02% of global Official Development Assistance is directed to gender-based violence prevention. (Source: The Accelerator for GBV Prevention)

2. Only 0.68 per cent of Official Development Assistance in Myanmar goes to women’s rights organizations. They need greater support so they can continue to play their critical role in preventing and eliminating violence against women and girls. (Source: 2021 OECD data)

3. Violence against women and girls disrupts peace and stability within families and communities. It triggers myriad costs to societies in healthcare, education, social protection, justice and productivity, preventing economies from achieving their full potential. Violence costs us all.

4. Violence against women and girls is a major barrier to them accessing sexual, reproductive health and family planning services. It also inhibits women’s participation in public life, particularly in the social and economic development of the country and in peace processes.

5. Armed conflict disproportionately affects women and girls, including putting them at higher risk of gender-based violence. (Source: Peace Research Institute Oslo, 2022 via the 2023 Women Peace and Security Index)

6. One in five ever-married women between 15 and 49 years of age have experienced some forms of intimate partner violence in their lifetime. (Myanmar’s Demographic and Health Survey 2015-2016)
Calls to action to organizations, donors & duty bearers

7 Sustained investment in Myanmar is more important than ever to fulfill the promise of a life free from violence for women and girls, including those affected by multiple humanitarian crises.

8 Humanitarian access must be granted in all affected areas in Myanmar, to ensure survivors of gender-based violence have access to health, psychosocial support, safety/security, and legal services.

9 Women’s organizations in Myanmar play a vital role in ending and preventing gender-based violence by providing services on a local level, bolstering women’s empowerment, and reaching those at risk of being left behind.

10 Civil society and women-led organizations are on the frontlines of gender-based violence prevention and response efforts. To best support survivors and those who serve them, we need donors to provide longer-term, flexible and accessible funding.

11 Investing in women’s and girls’ education benefits families, communities, and society as a whole.

12 Investing in women and girls boosts economic growth and helps improve overall community wellbeing.

13 Investing in women and girls in Myanmar will create long-term social and economic benefits for all individuals, communities and our country.
Ending gender-based violence is possible and it is the responsibility of all individuals and organizations. Join us in demanding investments and actions to end it.

The UN in Myanmar is firmly committed to investing in ending and preventing violence against women and girls and continuing to advance gender equality and women’s empowerment.

To the men and boys of Myanmar, be agents of change and champions of women’s rights. We need your support to bring an end to violence against women and girls.

Violence can’t be justified and shouldn’t be tolerated! You can be an agent of change by letting people know violence against women and girls is unacceptable. It’s not culture, it’s a crime that must not be excused.

You can take action by sharing messages in your community to call for more services, increased men’s engagement and the inclusion and leadership of grassroots women’s organizations in preventing and responding to gender-based violence.

The United Nations has zero tolerance for abuse of authority, sexual abuse and harassment.

There is #NoExcuse for violence. Yet, 1 in 3 women experience violence throughout their lifetime. Violence against women and girls is the most pervasive human rights violation worldwide.

In conflict settings, intimate partner violence is 2.4 times higher compared to non-fragile settings. Conflict and crisis put women and girls at greater risk. This #16Days, let’s put an end to gender-based violence. #NoExcuse

Women with disabilities are at least 2 to 3 times more likely than other women to experience violence. The risk is even higher during conflicts & crises. https://bit.ly/EVAWGfactsandfigures #NoExcuse #16Days #IDPD2023

Conflict puts women & girls at greater risk of violence. This #16Days we call for more investment to end gender-based violence in crises and conflicts! There is #NoExcuse.
Conflict puts women and girls at greater risk of sexual violence. Yet, aid for conflict-affected countries and women and girls in crisis settings continues to decline. This #16Days we call for more investment to end gender-based violence in crises and conflicts! There is #NoExcuse.

ACTIVITY IDEAS

16 Days of Activism, Myanmar 2023
Due to the energy crisis, rather than illuminating buildings and landmarks, this year we encourage partners to consider different ways of ‘painting the world orange’ on 25 November.

Here are some ideas:
MAKE SOCIAL MEDIA VIDEOS

You can help promote this year’s campaign by filming civil society partners, donors, community members and other stakeholders sharing their views on why it's important to “Invest to Prevent Violence Against Women & Girls”. Find more tips for making your video on the 2023 Myanmar 16 Days of Activism Trello Board.

Try to keep your video to around 30-40 seconds.

SUGGESTED QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR INTERVIEWEES

Individuals
- How are you taking action to end and prevent gender-based violence?
- What can men in Myanmar do to end and prevent gender-based violence?

Partners and civil society
- Why is it important to fund women’s organizations in Myanmar?
- How do local women's rights organisations in Myanmar help end and prevent gender-based violence?

Questions for donors
- How are you investing in ending and preventing gender-based violence in Myanmar?
- What type of investments are needed in Myanmar to end and prevent gender-based violence?
