No. 1. Message for Humanitarian workers

- Humanitarian workers and partners must avoid any action that could suggest, imply or create the perception or become involved in Sexual Exploitation and Abuse activities with the people we serve.

- Support and assistance to survivors of sexual exploitation and abuse is the responsibility of the organization and must be provided in line with the victim-centered approach to include medical, psychosocial, legal support etc.

Karen (Sagaw)

1. Message for Humanitarian workers

   1. No.
   2. English
      - Humanitarian workers and partners must avoid any action that could suggest, imply or create the perception or become involved in Sexual Exploitation and Abuse activities with the people we serve.
   3. Karen (Sagaw)

   2. Message for community

   - Aid is free; sexual favors in any form cannot be requested in exchange for assistance and services; report allegations and

   Karen (Sagaw)
incidents of sexual exploitation and abuse to: Email: mmrpsea@unfpa.org and Mobile Number: 09405149616.

3. Message for children

- Aid workers should never shout at you, touch any part of your body or somewhere you don’t like, or make you feel sad - if they are hurting you, you should tell an adult you trust. Remember, it is not your fault. Aid is free like food, schoolbooks, games and clothes are free. No one should ask you to do anything in exchange of these items. If something happens to you or others you know, talk about it to a person you trust. No harm will come to you for reporting this issue. Please talk to an adult you trust that can call this number: 09405149616.