

Plan International Myanmar's Earthquake Response

Update #4, June 27 2025

Until we are all equal

Myanmar Earthquake three months on

Plan International Myanmar is delivering humanitarian support in ten townships in the most earthquake-impacted areas of Mandalay and Sagaing.

Through our lifesaving aid, we have reached 34,792 people (58.49% female) affected by the earthquake in the two regions. We actively engaged with sector clusters at the local and national level, local authorities and local civil society organisations for effective distribution and coordination in the quake affected areas. We contributed to a joint-Rapid Gender Analysis with UN and NGOs to ensure gender response humanitarian actions are put into place. Moreover, Plan International Myanmar is also participating for a joint early rapid needs assessment for recovery phase.

Three months on, we are initiating early recovery efforts, prioritising the most vulnerable girls, women and their families.

Early recovery priorities

We continue our earthquake response in the selected townships of Mandalay and Sagaing through a localisation approach with the following priorities for early recovery:

Restoring livelihood and generating income of the affected families

Renovating damaged schools & ECCD centres and set up school WASH Facilities and providing learning materials

Setting up temporary learning spaces

Safeguarding awareness to young people and volunteers

Water, sanitation and health and hygiene (WASH)

Capacity strengthening of local partners in delivering the support

Accountability with affected population

Plan International Myanmar established community feedback mechanisms and distribution and project sites since the beginning of the earthquake response.

Community members and recipients of our humanitarian assistance have been able to raise their concerns and make recommendations, so that the response is people oriented, and their voices are heard and acted upon.
