

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT OF

Engineer – Earthquake Response, Monitoring & Reconstruction

World Concern is a US-based global disaster response and sustainable community development agency. Our mission is to transform the lives of those facing the most profound challenges of extreme poverty into lives of abundance through disaster response and sustainable development projects. Since 1995, World Concern Myanmar has been actively working in Kachin State, Shan States, and Mandalay Region, focusing on health, nutrition, food security, protection, clean water and sanitation, livelihood development, and environmental justice and protection.

In response to the recent earthquake in Myanmar, World Concern Myanmar is launching urgent recovery and rehabilitation efforts to support affected communities. We are seeking a committed and experienced Engineer to oversee and implement technical aspects of reconstruction, infrastructure monitoring, and rehabilitation activities. This role is critical to ensuring the safe, timely, and sustainable recovery of impacted areas.

Position	: Engineer – Earthquake Response, Monitoring & Reconstruction
Location	: Mandalay Region, Myanmar (with frequent travel to affected areas)
Reports to	: Emergency Response Leader and Emergency Response Manager
Duration	: Emergency Response Short-term

Why Join Us?

- Be Part of a Meaningful Mission: Your work will directly contribute to rebuilding lives and communities affected by the earthquake in Myanmar. This is more than just a job — it's a chance to create long-lasting impact where it's needed most.
- Build Your Career While Making a Difference: Gain hands-on experience in post-disaster response, community-based reconstruction, and structural rehabilitation — skills that are both professionally valuable and socially impactful.
- Support Communities for the Long Term: We focus on not just rebuilding what was lost, but strengthening infrastructure and community preparedness for the future.

Benefits:

- Competitive salary based on qualifications and experience
- Supportive and inclusive work environment, with a focus on safety, teamwork, and well-being
- Meaningful work that directly contributes to national recovery and community resilience

Key Responsibilities:

- Conduct damage assessments and structural evaluations in affected areas.
- Design and oversee reconstruction and rehabilitation of buildings, roads, and public infrastructure.
- Ensure all engineering activities comply with national safety standards and earthquake-resistant construction practices.
- Monitor ongoing construction works to ensure quality, safety, and adherence to timelines.

- Prepare technical reports, construction drawings, and bills of quantities.
- Coordinate closely with local authorities, contractors, communities, and humanitarian partners.
- Support capacity-building of local stakeholders on resilient construction methods.
- Provide regular updates and recommendations to the project management team.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree or higher in Civil Engineering or Structural Engineering.
- Minimum 3–5 years of professional experience in post-disaster reconstruction or infrastructure projects.
- Proven experience in earthquake response, structural assessments, or rehabilitation works.
- Knowledge of building codes and earthquake-resilient construction methods in Myanmar.
- Proficiency in technical software (e.g., AutoCAD, SAP2000, MS Project).
- Strong communication skills and ability to work in multi-stakeholder environments.
- Fluency in Burmese is essential; English proficiency is an asset.
- Willingness to travel and work in remote or disaster-affected areas.
- Strong teamwork, communication, and problem-solving skills.

If you are passionate about making a positive impact and meet the qualifications, we encourage you to apply for this exciting opportunity!
